

LOVING WHEN LOVING IS HARD

SUNDAY,
OCTOBER 7,
2018

UNITY RENAISSANCE OF CHESAPEAKE

1120 Eden Way North | Chesapeake, VA 23320

LOVING WHEN LOVING IS HARD

9:00 am & 11:00 am Services

No one disagrees with the highest standards of loving others as ourselves, and loving without condition. And yet, there are so many challenges and so many difficulties. How can we keep our eyes on the Light when there is so much to distract us?

UNMET EXPECTATIONS: LETTING GO OF THE CAUSES OF JUDGMENT

Afternoon Workshop from 1:00 pm to 4:00 pm

Cost $25.00 or Love Offering

If we look deeply into the difficulties most of us experience with loving unconditionally, we invariably find that we have unmet expectations of others, of ourselves, of relationships, and of community. Just as Jesus told us you can't pour new wine into old wineskins, so it is that you can't love without dealing with the conditions that are the source of our disenchantments.

"Clarity is an aspect of love, it is seeing clearly. Ron Chapman sees with those eyes. He pays attention as few do to the miracles around us. He tells the One Story in all of its permutations as a way of drawing us to the warmth of our heart."

- Stephen Levine, Author & Practitioner

"[The retreat] with Ron was a terrific experience... it was amazing, tender, profound and it felt safe."

- Janine Thomas, Owner - Casa Serena Retreat Center

To learn more about Ron and his work, visit www.SeeingTrue.com. To learn more about his speaking and consultation practice, books and ideas at www.RonaldChapman.com.